In 2001, the Center for American Progress released a report titled "The High Cost of Employment Discrimination," which was a study of the impact of discrimination on lower-income workers' wages, career advancement and ability to save for retirement. (Because of the study's findings, CAP also advocated for passage of the Workplace Opportunity Tax Credit, which provides some limited tax benefits to workers and their employers who adopt "job-creating" federal and state policies, including increasing the employment of low-income workers.) The report found that discrimination is more prevalent in the service sector, where jobs are less well-defined and the costs of wage discrimination are lower. Most low-wage workers are employed in the service sector. The report's most damning finding is that "discrimination against lower income people is huge.

What's new:

- FIFA 22 introduces "HyperMotion technology," which is based on the real-life movements of 22 professional football players in motion capture suits in high-intensity matches. You can watch these in-game highlights in FIFA Ultimate Team.
- FIFA 22 continues with the quality and depth of the game, complete with dynamic weather and player movement and animation. The new focus on player momentum allows players to accelerate or slow down depending on how they are playing. The new AI makes even the most difficult players look different each time.
- There's even more ball control, such as smart passes, precision dribbles and more advanced AI ball skills. Smart passes and dribbling have been designed to create more personality in the game. The deeper build-in skills, such as acceleration and acceleration control, make intelligent decisions on how to beat a defender, use the ball to their advantage, or work to the open spaces.
- Next-Gen standards bring an all-new lighting and graphical engine, complete with atmospheric and day/night (DNR) lighting, realistic outdoor shadows, and seamless ref viewing. You'll also enjoy new kit designs, detailed player faces, and stadia with hundreds of in-game customisations. The animation of player models has been improved throughout, adding dynamic expressions, making them more lifelike in every animation.
- The ball feels more alive and changes how players control the ball on touch. FIFA 22 brings an all-new ball control system with every ball influencing how a player performs on the pitch. As the ball travels, changes in spin, elevation, air pressure, and micro-decisions come in to play. You'll also find more creative angles where you dictate play, analyse opponents, accelerate, dodge, and more.
- Tackle animations have been improved to make the collisions look more realistic and earned possession feel more authentic. Players slide with the original animation or flop with the force of the collision while opponents fall down with realistic animations.
- Tactical Defending is the most enhanced feature in FIFA 22, making it easier to command the ball and to pack and break down defences. With the new tactical defending that sees defenders reading the game more quickly and more effectively defend their Area of Control (AoC) like never before. Improved corner and free-kick blocking sees more holding at goal.
